Principal's foreword

Introduction

Our school has a long and proud history. As the first school in Gladstone, beginning in 1861, our students have been part of the Gladstone Region's growth from a small rural town to a modern industrial city serviced by excellent deep water port facilities.

We are justly proud of the achievements of our school and of its present and past students and staff. We have developed productive partnerships with our students, parents, school and local community, and together, we are plotting a course for developing each of our students to realise their individual and collective potential.

This report provides parents and members of the school community with information about the school's activities and performance over the past year. It highlights our strengths and identifies areas for development and improvement during 2015.

A hard copy of this report is available from the school office.

School progress towards its goals in 2015

In 2014 our school critically examined our learning achievements and school practices through a Quadriennial Review process and established key directions. In 2015 Gladstone Central State School's progress towards these included:

Teaching and Learning: Improvement in the performance of all students in Reading, Maths and Language Conventions.· Closing the gap in educational outcomes for Indigenous students, in particular achievement and attendance.· Improvement in the % of students who reach top 2 bands for English and Maths.

Community Relationships:· Supported children's holistic wellbeing through fostering skills and attributes that encouraged them to be healthy, green and fair citizens· Continued building productive partnerships with our community and beyond.

Supportive Resources:· Continued to manage resources effectively to strengthen delivery of teaching and learning in ourschool.· Implemented parent and community engagement strategies that supported improved student outcomes.

Future outlook

Our future outlook has as its foundation, a positive and strong culture of continual improvement of student achievement by both students and staff and the professional growth of our staff to meet the challenges of curriculum innovation.

In 2015 we will continue to focus on:

Pedagogy: Implement targeted initiatives to improve the % of students who reach top 2 bands for English and Maths.

Professional Practice: Support teachers to transform teaching and learning practice to improve student learning outcomes through the use of rich digital learning environments engaging our diverse range of students. Continue to manage resources effectively to strengthen delivery of teaching and learning in our school.

Performance: Improve the performance of all students in English, Maths and Science, targeting 80% to achieve National Mean Standards in all areas by 2014. Closing the gap in educational outcomes for Indigenous students through a particular focus on achievement.

Partnership: Implement further parent and community engagement strategies that support improved student outcomes. As the demographics of our school changes, we continue to refine our key directions and focus on the development of partnerships with other schools and organisations in our district to support the academic and social growth of our young people. Support children's holistic wellbeing through fostering skills and attributes that encourage them to be healthy, green and fair citizens. Continue building productive partnerships with our community and beyond.

Characteristics of the student body:

Gladstone Central State School was established in 1861 as the first school in Gladstone. Our school now occupies a central position in the city, close to the central business district. Our school is coeducational and caters for students from Prep to Year 7.

Our school services a wide community comprising the city area, inner residential suburbs and the wider community. Many of our current enrolments are drawn from outside our school catchment area. The relatively small student population in comparison to other local schools is often cited by parents as a reason for choosing to enrol their child at our school. Our physical location in the city provides our students with easy access to a variety of community resources and extra curricula activities.

The population is a heterogeneous mix in terms of combined family income, ethnic backgrounds and education. Our school has an active parent group who assist in the strategic direction setting for our school and as parent volunteers in our classrooms. Our school community, as individuals and as a group, supports and encourages the adoption of the values and beliefs of our school.

How Information and Communication Technologies are used to improve learning iKids demand seamless access between, school, work, home and play. They work digitally in ways that pervade and impact on every aspect of their schooling and use personalized pathways to learning success. Teachers and students explore new ways of learning and teaching and develop valuable skills and knowledge necessary to inquire, create, communicate and operate in our technologically connected world. To enable this students have access to a class sized computer laboratory for whole class skill development and internet access. Classrooms and Mini Hubs located across the school are equipped with interactive whiteboards and internet access and all students, particularly from Years 3 - 7, have email capability.

ICT is a cross curricular priority in all Key Learning Areas with the view of teachers utilizing resources such as interactive whiteboards into their daily teaching. Resources such as iPads, iTouches, webcams, robots, digital microscope, digital cameras and a video camera available for use throughout the school. Teachers and students are encouraged to access Education Queensland specific sites such as Learning Place.

Students are encouraged to: * Access learning everywhere and anytime in real time * Locate, filter, tap into and adapt knowledge and technologies to be productive * Create, critique and publish work in various ways to share with others. * Communicate, participate, collaborate globally in a variety of ways with a variety of others. * Live and safely operate in a digital world.

In order to ensure we are engaging our 21st Century learners, our school is committed to ensuring we have available to all students the technology required on a daily basis. We also recognise that when it comes to teaching and learning the focus needs to be on appropriate use of technology to support learning.

Teachers are ensuring they continue to keep up with the latest technologies and undertake professional development on a regular basis to enhance their knowledge and utilisation of technology to enhance their teaching.

Parent and Community Engagement

A close relationship between parents, the community and school enhances the education of students. Parents are actively encouraged to participate in a range of school activities.

An important and enthusiastic part of our school family is our Parents & Citizens' association. You will not have witnessed a more supportive or active group of parents who work tirelessly to continue to enhance our school. An active Parents and Citizens' Association meet monthly and work in close liaison with the school's Administration in setting strategic direction and monitoring budgets and planning.

The P&C has a positive input into the future expectations and resources required by teachers to provide quality educational choices for students' educational progression. The Tuckshop convenor and parent helpers provide healthy meals for students and staff.

Parents are encouraged to play vital roles in assisting students learning and we welcome helpers in classrooms, excursions and culmination/celebration of learning events. Parent participation in celebratory school and classroom events such as end of term parades, graduation and badge presentation ceremonies, Anzac Day service, Education Week and Under 8s activities are also part of our school program.

Strong communication is encouraged between home and school. Academic Reporting to parents occur at the following times:

As part of our commitment to reducing its impact on the environment Gladstone Central State School is an Earth Smart School and Reef Guardian School. The school has a School Environment Management Plan which encourages staff and student to reduce, reuse, repurpose and recycle every day.

Description of how non-attendance is managed by the school

Non-attendance is managed in state schools in line with the DET procedures, Managing Student Absences and Enforcing Enrolment and Attendance at State Schools and Roll Marking in State Schools, which outline processes for managing and recording student attendance and absenteeism.

As part of the Every Day Counts, a statewide initiative addressing the issue of student attendance at school, Gladstone Central State School actively promotes the importance of regular attendance at school.

We advocate the Every Day Counts key messages: *all children should be enrolled at school and attend on every school day *as a school we monitor, communicate and implement strategies to improve regular school attendance *truanting can place a student in unsafe situations and impact on their future employability and life choices *attendance at school is the responsibility of everyone in the community.

Non-attendance is managed in line with the DET policies, SMS-PR-029: Managing Student Absences and SMS-PR-036. Roll Marking processes are also aligned to DET policies for managing and recording student attendance and absenteeism.

Rolls are marked twice, once in the morning and once in the afternoon, each day. Parents are notified of absences via SMS text, letters home and phone calls as required.
